The Mission Statement and Aims of Coláiste Bríde are based on the characteristic spirit of the foundress of the Mercy Sisters Catherine Mc McCauley.

Catherine's aim was to empower the poor of her time through Catholic education, based on Gospel values to take their place with dignity in the society in which they lived and to participate fully and creatively in life.

In Coláiste Bríde we believe in the value of the Catholic School and in Catholic Education and in it seek to integrate growth in Christ with the cultural enrichment acquired through human knowledge and skill and to provide an education where our students are fitted for earth without being unfitted for heaven. We believe that humanising and liberating education is the entitlement of every person regardless of what their particular vocation might be.

Mission Statement
